The market town of Diss lies just over the border into Norfolk, around 6 miles away, providing an excellent range of shopping, social and leisure facilities and, additionally, a mainline rail station on the Norwich to London Liverpool Street line. Property

Enjoying an attractive rural setting with open views across neighbouring farmland, this handsome detached home with origins dating back to 1825 has been thoughtfully remodelled and significantly enhanced to create a stylish family residence of considerable appeal. Character features have been carefully retained whilst a contemporary extension has transformed the ground floor into an exceptional open-plan living space, perfectly suited to modern family life. A welcoming entrance hall introduces the property, where exposed brickwork and quality finishes set the tone. To the front, the sitting room offers a more intimate retreat, centred around an impressive brick fireplace with inset wood-burning stove, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. The true focal point of the house lies to the rear, where the striking kitchen, dining and family room has been designed as one seamless space for both everyday living and entertaining. Fitted with a bespoke range of contemporary cabinetry centred around a substantial island, the kitchen incorporates an excellent range of integrated appliances, a recently installed Quooker tap and filtered water tap, together with a water softener and is flooded with natural light through a glass roof light, dual aspect glazing and wide bi-folding doors opening directly onto the terrace. Newly laid Karndean flooring extends throughout the ground floor, enhancing the flow between the living spaces, whilst underfloor heating and a second wood-burning stove ensure comfort throughout the seasons. A practical utility room and cloakroom complete the ground floor accommodation. Arranged over the first floor are four well-proportioned bedrooms. The principal suite enjoys exposed timbers together with an en-suite shower room, The second bedroom has useful fitted wardrobes. whilst the remaining bedrooms are served by a stylish family bathroom. Throughout the first floor, the rooms retain a sense of character with exposed beams complementing the light and well-balanced accommodation. The property is fitted with a security alarm and external cameras.

Outside

The property is approached via an extensive shingled driveway providing generous off-road parking and enjoys uninterrupted views across open countryside to the front. The gardens have been cleverly divided to create two distinct yet complementary outdoor environments. Immediately adjoining the house, a beautifully landscaped entertaining garden provides an excellent extension of the living accommodation, with expansive terraces and a well-appointed outdoor kitchen creating an ideal setting for summer dining and relaxed evenings with family and friends. Beyond contemporary screening, the gardens adopt a more productive nature, incorporating a thoughtfully designed kitchen garden complete with raised beds, greenhouse and large shed, offering excellent facilities for keen gardeners and those wishing to grow their own produce. A particularly attractive feature is the detached clay lump studio.
