Mor Mynydd Ffordd Pentre Mynach, Barmouth, LL42 1EN

When it comes to first impressions, Mor Mynydd sets the bar high. It is an individually designed detached bungalow in a much sought after location of Barmouth. The delightful residence has been built specifically to be a social, family focused and fun home and the quality of the build and materials used add to the desirability of the property.

Built by a local builder with traditional block and brick construction, it benefits from very high insulation and air tightness levels and there is underfloor heating to all rooms. Exposed roof rafters in the open plan lounge/kitchen add to the contemporary feel and a Scandinavian log burner in this room provides the warmth, comfort and style. In addition there is a fire sprinkler system fitted.

Walk into the large entrance hallway and into a free flowing space with natural slate flooring throughout. Rooms transition seamlessly from open plan lounge/kitchen to bedrooms and bathroom and spread out to alfresco terraces.

Externally the high specification of the property continues with off road parking for 2 vehicles, patios for dining and contemporary modern hardscaping for low maintenance. At the very top of the garden is the most delightful spot - with far reaching views over open countryside and Cardigan bay beyond. There is no other place you will rather be!

Currently the property is being run as a successful holiday let and accounts can be provided on request to genuinely interested parties.

This is a home to joyfully anticipate returning to day after day with amazing views, light filled spaces and private gardens for all the family. Welcome.
