This striking Grade II-listed Victorian clock tower building has been converted into stylish and unique, multi-story residential apartments. Originally built in 1871 as part of the former Parkside Hospital, this landmark building blends historic architectural grandeur with modern suburban living.

With the hospital close by and Macclesfield town centre and the train station all within easy reach this particular apartment has been completely refurbished to offer modern kitchen and bathroom along with new carpets and full redecoration.

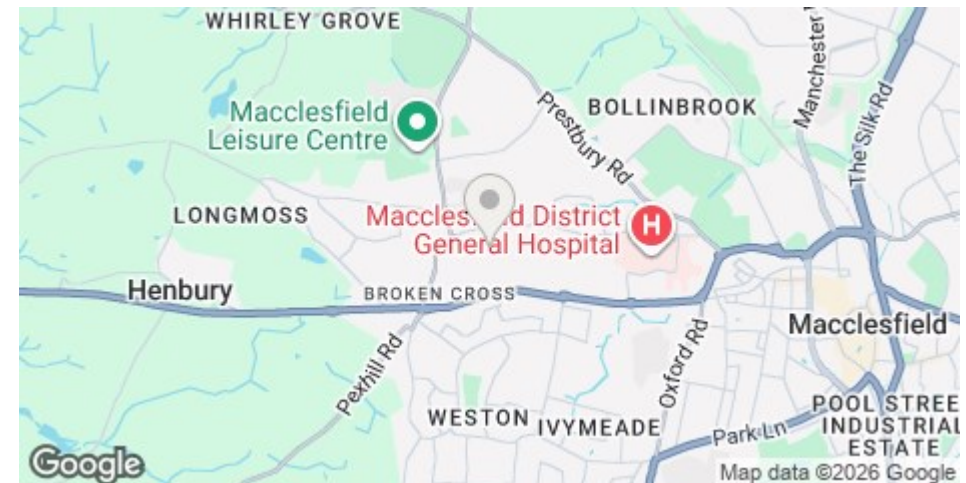

Communal entrance hall, private entrance hall with utility cupboard, lounge with attractive views over the development, two well-proportioned bedrooms, kitchen with hob, oven and integrated fridge freezer, bathroom with shower over bath.

Allocated parking. VIEWING RECOMMENDED
