A truly distinctive detached contemporary home, beautifully positioned within the picturesque hamlet of Little Petherick just a short drive from the renowned harbour town of Padstow.

Occupying an elevated setting, this unique property enjoys delightful views across the village and surrounding countryside while offering an imaginative split-level layout that creates a wonderful sense of space and character.

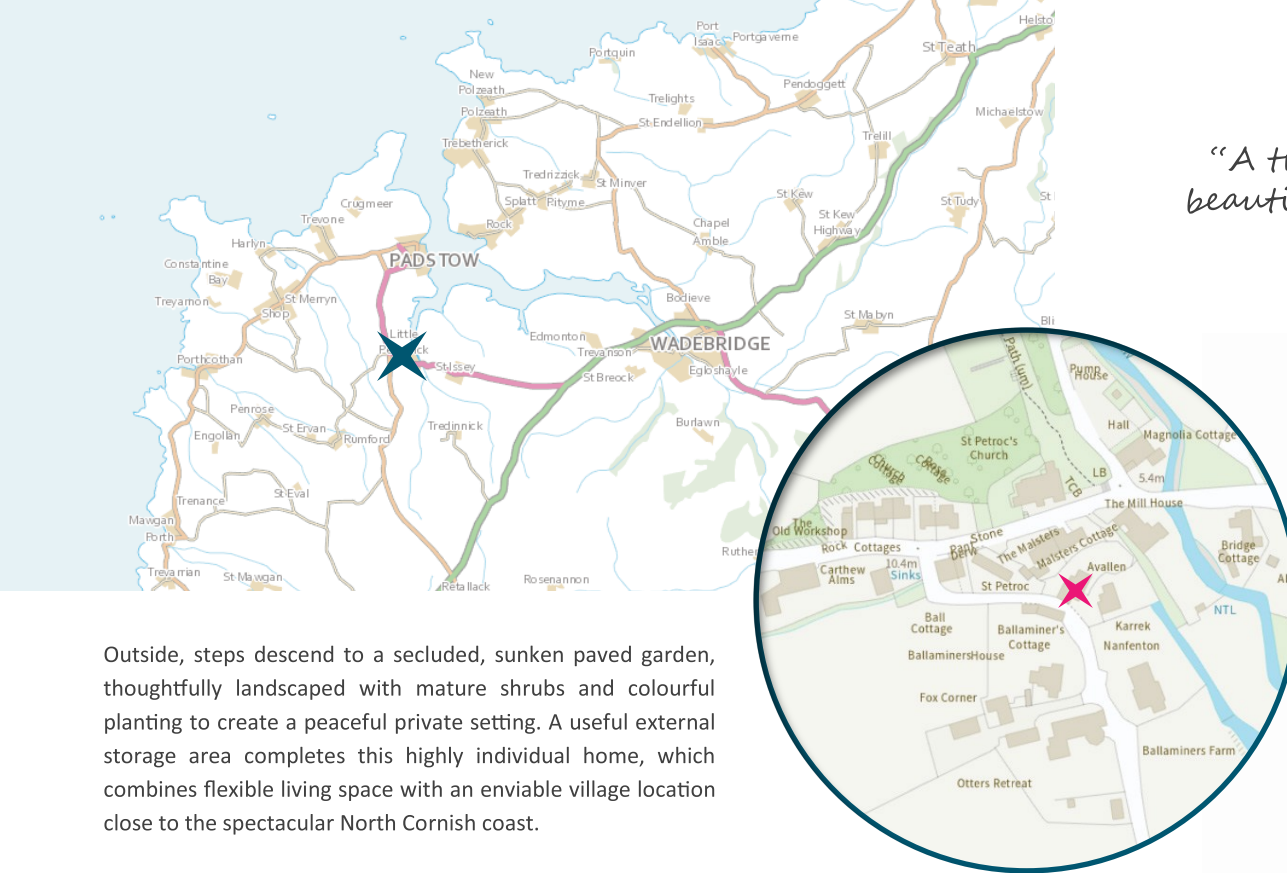

The accommodation is thoughtfully arranged over two levels, beginning with a welcoming entrance hall incorporating a practical utility area and cloakroom. The contemporary kitchen and dining room is well appointed with a range of modern cabinetry, Rangemaster gas cooker and integrated appliances, while a charming bay window provides the perfect place to enjoy morning coffee overlooking the village surroundings. Completing the upper level, a spacious double bedroom benefits from dual aspect windows framing attractive views across the church, village and countryside, complemented by a well-appointed family bathroom.

The lower level has been designed with both comfort and versatility in mind. A bright lobby creates an inviting transition between the house and garden, with bi-fold doors opening directly onto the private outdoor space. The principal bedroom enjoys a peaceful aspect overlooking the rear garden and is served by an en-suite shower room. The split-level sitting room is a particularly striking feature of the home, offering generous living space centred around a gas coal-effect fireplace, with large windows capturing views across the garden and village. The third bedroom, provides excellent flexibility for guests, hobbies or recreation with a large storage room beyond.
