Offered chain free, this deceptively spacious character cottage offers a wealth of period features, within a few minutes walk of all local amenities. The primary school is less than half a mile away, with older children catching a bus to The Weald from a couple of stops just down the road. There's plenty to do in this bustling village on the edge of the South Downs, with a range of bars, cafes, shops and restaurants, plus a bakery, butchers, doctors and dentists. Wonderful walks and bike rides will be found almost from the front door and there's access to the River Arun for kayaking and so on close by.

With more than 1000sq ft of living space, plus a useful cellar for storage, the property is far larger than it looks from the road. It has three reception rooms, including a south facing conservatory. The kitchen and bathroom have both been replaced within the last four years and there is an unfinished utility room which could alternatively be used as a second bathroom (as it used to be) or as a study for working from home. Two of the three bedrooms are good doubles, the third is a nice single with a built in cupboard.

The rear garden is surprisingly large, with a gravel seating area and a lawn for children to play on. A couple of mature trees offer welcome shade during the warmer days and there is gated access to the driveway behind the garden. The current owners park a second car alongside the cottage.
