Location

Sadler Street is one of the oldest and most historic routes in Wells. Since the mid-13th century, it has served as the main northern entry into the city. Originally called Canons Street, Cheap Street, or High Street, it is famous for its medieval architecture and centuries-old coaching inns. Wells is the smallest city in England and offers a vibrant high street with a variety of independent shops and restaurants as well as a twice weekly market and a choice of supermarkets including Waitrose. Amenities include a leisure centre, independent cinema and a theatre. Bristol and Bath lie c.22 miles to the north and north-east respectively with mainline train stations to London at Castle Cary (c.11 miles) as well as Bristol and Bath. Bristol International Airport is c.15 miles to the north-west. Of particular note is the variety of well-regarded schools in both the state and private sectors in Wells and the surrounding area.
