The Property

Orchard House is a detached residence built circa 1970 located in Goonpiper Feock. The current owner has altered and improved the accommodation to provide a well proportioned footprint across two floors.

A welcoming reception area provides ample space for coats and shoes, leading into an expansive ground floor footprint. To the rear, a generous space currently housing the lounge, dining room, and conservatory.

Large windows and structural openings provide this area with natural lighting, and garden views.

The kitchen and utility area connect the dining room and substantial rear living space.

Stairs rise to the first floor leading to the original master bedroom and house bathroom and separate WC.

The landing extends into the new master bedroom which features an en-suite bathroom, and 4 further family bedrooms.

These rooms enjoy multiple windows framing elevated views over the mature grounds.

Finally, a fixed staircase provides access to the loft room, offering additional accommodation .

The Exterior & Gardens

Orchard House benefits from established front and rear private gardens which enjoy the sun right through the day.

The house features striking traditional masonry arches and an external corridor, enclosed by an established array of mature plants, shrubbery, and trees.

To the front, the driveway provides ample off-road parking for several vehicles.

The Location

Orchard House is located just a short walk from the deep-water sailing facilities at Loe Beach, allowing water access to the tree-lined creeks and rivers of the Carrick Roads, an area that is highly favoured by sailing enthusiasts.

Feock is a highly sought-after picturesque waterside village situated on the River Fal, a short drive of Truro with a thriving community.

There are many beautiful countryside walks which are accessible direct from the front door.

The Cathedral city of Truro provides an excellent shopping centre including a flagship Marks and Spencer store, main line railway station connected to London (Paddington) and a good selection of both private and state schools.
