This spacious semi-detached bungalow offers excellent room proportions and impressive ceiling heights, creating a bright and airy feel throughout. Deceptively large, the property is far more substantial than a simple drive-by might suggest. Set on a generous plot, it benefits from ample off-road parking to the front and a sizeable, level rear garden.

Internally, the bungalow provides three well-proportioned bedrooms along with two reception rooms, including a comfortable lounge and a separate dining room. The dining room sits adjacent to the kitchen, offering fantastic potential to be opened up and transformed into a stylish and contemporary kitchen-diner if desired.

The kitchen itself is a modern, sleek fitted space, offering a good range of worktop areas and storage options, along with space for various appliances. It is both practical and well-designed, making it ideal for everyday use while still offering scope for further enhancement.

A useful side porch provides direct access from the kitchen into the garden, making it perfect for al fresco dining, entertaining, or summer barbecues. The three bedrooms consist of two generous doubles and a third smaller double, all served by a smart, modern shower room which also benefits from a large airing cupboard.

The spacious entrance hallway enhances the sense of space and provides access to a particularly large loft area, offering excellent storage potential. Additional storage is also available via a handy cupboard located near the dining room, ensuring the home remains practical as well as comfortable.

Externally, the rear garden is predominantly level and thoughtfully arranged, featuring a patio seating area, gravel borders, new fencing, and a large lawn—ideal for children, pets, or keen gardeners looking to create their own outdoor haven. Situated in a quiet cul-de-sac in Brixham, the property enjoys a convenient and well-regarded location, and further benefits from uPVC double glazing and gas central heating throughout.
