4 2 2

This deceptively spacious four-bedroom detached bungalow has been extended over the years and tastefully upgraded by the current vendors to provide versatile accommodation throughout. The property is entered via an entrance porch, with a fourth bedroom positioned to the side, offering flexibility for use as a study or additional reception room. The entrance hall leads to a bright and airy living room with a wood-burning stove, a separate snug, three double bedrooms (the principal with en-suite facilities) and a family bathroom. The snug opens into an impressive extension housing a spacious kitchen/diner, ideal for everyday living and entertaining. The kitchen is fitted with a range of wall and floor-mounted units, with plumbing for white goods and space for additional appliances.
