Location

Fordley Hall is situated in a pleasant rural location along a no-through road. The property is situated within the Parish of Middleton with the village centre itself being approximately one mile. Here, there is a popular pub, The Bell Inn. The property is ideally located for access to the coast with Aldeburgh being 9 miles and Southwold 12 miles. Both towns are celebrated for their cultural richness including Aldeburgh's annual music festival held at Snape Maltings Concert Hall which is just 9 miles. For those who enjoy golf and sailing both can be found at Aldeburgh. The town of Saxmundham which has both Waitrose and Tesco supermarkets as well as a railway station is 4 miles. There are trains to London's Liverpool Street station via Ipswich.

Description

Fordley Hall is a Grade II Listed farmhouse. It is believed that from the carvings on principal beams in the hall/dining room, that the original hall dates back to 1478 with both wings extended in the late 1960s. The house is of timber frame construction with rendered elevations under a plaintiled roof. The substantial house extends to some 4,295 sq.ft arranged over two floors plus a cellar. The house stands in beautiful grounds where there are south and west facing patios, a vegetable garden, tennis court and meadow with an idyllic pond. Immediately adjoining the gardens is the yard where there is an excellent range of historic and modern buildings which have been used as stables and for agricultural purposes. The buildings have scope, subject to the normal consents, to be converted for alternative uses.

The immediate grounds extend to just over 7 acres. Fordley Hall forms part of Fordley Hall Farm and the property is available as a whole or in up to three Lots. The farm extends to some 280 acres and the purchase of further land, amenity and agricultural, with the dwelling and its buildings is possible.

The House - A front door leads to a porch and inner hallway. Off this are two of the reception rooms, the drawing room and dining room. The dual aspect drawing room enjoys views over the gardens, buildings and farmland and has French doors opening onto the terrace. At one end is an open fireplace and store cupboard. The dining room is dual aspect with lead light windows to the front and rear of the property. It has exposed timbers and an inglenook fireplace with bressummer beam above which is home to a woodburning stove. A door leads to a study and also an inner lobby where the first of two staircases rise to the first floor landing. Off this is a cloakroom with WC and handwash basin and access to the cellar. From the dining room, a hallway leads to the farmhouse kitchen/breakfast room. This has low-level wall units and a large stainless sink with drainers. There is a four oven duck egg blue oil fired Aga and also an electric oven and electric hob. The kitchen windows overlook the terrace. A second set of stairs rise to the first floor landing and as well as a door into the boot room, there are also doors to the butlers pantry and the large larder. The utility room has a stainless steel sink and space and plumbing for a washing machine and tumble dryer. There is an oil-fired boiler, a store cupboard and a further cloakroom with WC. The boot room has wall to wall windows overlooking the gardens and a door to the driveway.

The first floor landing has windows to two elevations, one of two airing cupboards with a hot water cylinder and doors to the bedrooms and bathroom. The principal bedroom is dual aspect and has a bay window overlooking the barns and agricultural land beyond. This has fitted wardrobes and drawers and a door to an en-suite bathroom/dressing room that comprises a bath, two handwash basins, WC, shower and airing cupboard with a hot water cylinder. The six further first floor bedrooms can all be used as doubles and have attractive period features such as exposed timbers. There are two family bathrooms, both of which have baths, handwash basins and WCs, and one with a shower above the bath.

Outside

The Gardens - Fordley Hall is approached from Littlemoor Road which is a no-through road, via a shingled drive providing off-road parking. From here there is access to a redbrick building that comprises two open fronted garages measuring 19' x 17' and a workshop of 17' x 10'. Above the garages/workshop is the impressive studio. This has been refurbished in recent years and in total measures 30' x 17'. It is used as the farm office and has a kitchenette with high and low-level wall units, an integrated dishwasher, electric oven, hob and stainless steel sink. In addition, there is a shower room with WC, handwash basin and shower. The studio has electric heating and subject to the normal consents, would be ideal as an annexe or holiday let.

The gardens are predominately to the south and west of the house and there is a substantial sandstone terrace beyond which are beds and topiary leading down to a lower-level lawn where there is also a pond and a useful store and mower shed. Adjacent to the studio is a partly walled garden attached to which is a timber framed greenhouse. Beyond is an enclosed vegetable garden and also a meadow. Here there is an excellent hard tennis court with retractable lighting. A five bar gate leads to an additional meadow which is enclosed by mature trees and hedges and contains a large pond. Adjacent to this is a horse paddock which is fenced and has direct access to the yard and buildings.

The Yard and Buildings - whilst these lie adjacent to the house and its grounds, they have excellent independent access from the lane. There is substantial concrete hardstanding off which are the numerous modern and traditional buildings including silos.
