A Big Little Cottage with Endless Charm

Tucked away in the quaint hamlet of Greenham on the Dorset/Somerset border, this nearly 200-year-old cottage is a true hidden gem. Full of character, history, and warmth, it offers a secluded retreat with stunning countryside views.

Step into the spacious sitting room, where an open fire and wood burner create a cozy haven. The bright and cheery kitchen has a Belfast sink and a charming breakfast nook, leading to a traditional scullery, complete with ample storage and a Victorian-style high-cistern toilet.

Upstairs, a large landing window frames picturesque scenery, while the generous bedroom features charming leaded cottage windows and a Victorian fire surround. The spacious bathroom showcases a beautiful clawfoot bath, offering a touch of luxury.

But that's not all—the incredible play loft adds an element of history and character, with exposed beams marked and dated back to 1842, perfect for a studio or additional storage.

Outside, a patterned garden seating area invites relaxation, with open fields just a few steps away. And yes, it has a garage!

If you're searching for a unique and welcoming hideaway, this big little cottage is waiting to charm you. Don't miss the chance to call it home!
