Denise White Estate Agents Comments

Positioned on the highly regarded and historic St Edward Street in the heart of Leek, this substantial triple-fronted mixed-use townhouse presents a rare and exciting opportunity. Offering expansive accommodation across three floors together with a separate commercial shop unit, the property provides remarkable flexibility for a range of buyers, investors, or business owners. Though modernisation and cosmetic updating are required throughout, the sheer scale, layout and prime location of this building make it a truly outstanding prospect with endless potential.

Commercial Space:-

Occupying the majority of the ground floor, the commercial unit boasts an impressive double-fronted façade, enhanced by two bay windows that offer excellent street presence and natural light. Inside, the main shop area is versatile and ideal for a variety of business types. To the rear, a small useful ancillary room provides potential for use as an office or kitchen. A door leads out to a shared rear yard, where you will find an outside WC and a separate store room, providing practical facilities for the commercial element of the property.

Residential Accommodation:-

Accessed independently, the generous residential portion extends over three floors, offering the footprint and character of a substantial townhouse. A kitchen with direct access to the shared rear yard offers scope to modernise to suit personal taste. Stairs rise to a spacious landing which leads to a standout large reception room, complete with exposed beams and two front-facing windows. This floor hosts three bedrooms—two sizeable doubles and a well-proportioned single—together with a large family bathroom featuring both a bath and a separate shower. Stairs lead down to a charming second reception room showcasing an attractive fireplace and a bay window. Beyond this is a small porch area that opens out onto a raised, well-sized rear garden, offering a pleasant and private outdoor space rarely found in properties of this nature.

Location

Located on an extremely sought after street in the centre of the town.

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoiled town centre offers a refreshing alternative from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to specialty producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectibles to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.

Further afield, you'll find the unique, tooth-like rock formations of The Roaches, Rudyard Lake with its picturesque setting and narrow gauge railway and Tittesworth Water, a popular and accessible attraction for visitors of all ages
