for sale guide price
£300,000-£350,000

Very well presented and ready to move in to, this deceptively spacious, three-bedroom, semi-detached home is set in the ever-popular village of Boughton-under-Blean. The village is located between Canterbury and Faversham providing convenient access to both via the A2 and M2 main roads along with regular bus routes. There is a local village store, pub and primary school well within walking distance too.

The home itself opens through a porchway to the main hallway leading to a generous, open plan living dining room. There are double doors overlooking the rear garden and access to the modern fitted kitchen. To the rear of the home is a separate utility area and a useful room offering flexible accommodation as a bedroom, study or garden room.

To the first floor there are three bedrooms, two of which enjoy their own built in wardrobe space and a modern bathroom with matching suite of bath and overhead shower, WC and washbasin. The loft area is also fully boarded with sky light windows, ideal for storage or office area.

The home also boasts ample garden spaces to the front and rear along with off road parking for multiple vehicles to the front and access to a detached garage that has been split in two; the front being for storage, the rear has a fully powered area ideal as a workshop or for further storage.
