Constructed of stone walls beneath a tile roof, the property benefits from uPvc double-glazing and electric central heating, backed up by photovoltaic solar panels. A little over ten years ago the property was further improved and reconfigured, resulting in an immensely versatile layout.

The spacious accommodation amounts to a little over 2,400sq.ft and briefly comprises porch, entrance hall, guest cloakroom, sitting room, sun room, dining room, garden room, dining kitchen, utility room, master bedroom with en-suite shower room, dressing room/fifth bedroom, up to three further bedrooms and a house bathroom.

Externally the property is approached via a set of timber double gates, which offer a high degree of privacy and open onto a gravelled driveway, culminating with a detached garage block. The overall plot totals some 0.3 acres and the gardens have been attractively landscaped and maintained with a wide variety of flowering shrubs, perennials and specimen trees. They are complemented by the backdrop of undulating countryside views.
