Location

Happisburgh is a coastal village on the north east Norfolk coast, known for its iconic red and white lighthouse and wide sandy beaches. The village offers a range of amenities including a village shop, primary school, pub, café and church, while the larger market town of North Walsham, approximately 9 miles away, provides supermarkets, independent shops, healthcare facilities and a railway station with services to Norwich and Cromer. The village is well placed for exploring the Norfolk coastline, with Sea Palling around 5 miles away, Mundesley approximately 7 miles, Cromer around 17 miles and the city of Norwich approximately 20 miles to the south west.
