Welcome

Stepping inside, you are immediately welcomed into the open-plan kitchen and dining area — the true heart of the home. Exposed beams, stone walls and a traditional range-style cooker set the tone, while carefully designed cabinetry and generous work surfaces provide excellent everyday practicality. This is a sociable space, ideal for both relaxed family meals and entertaining, with room for a dining table positioned to enjoy views through to the adjoining living areas.

Walk through to the dining room, a characterful and versatile space that works equally well for formal dining or as a snug sitting area. Stone flooring, soft natural light and an easy flow back through the ground floor make this a flexible room that adapts effortlessly to modern living.

The sitting room is a standout feature of this beautiful home. Bathed in natural light, with full-height glazing and doors opening directly onto the garden, this room creates a seamless connection between inside and out. A contemporary wood-burning stove provides a cosy focal point, making this an inviting space to enjoy throughout the seasons — whether watching the garden change through the year or gathering around the fire on winter evenings.

Upstairs, the principal bedroom is full of character, with exposed timbers and a calm, restful feel. The additional bedrooms are equally charming, each with its own individual character and flexible layout. These rooms work well for family members, guests, or home working and benefit from the same period detailing that runs throughout the property.

The family bathroom has been stylishly updated, combining modern fittings with a clean, contemporary finish that complements the character of the house. A bath with shower over provides practicality for everyday use, while roof lights and quality tiling create a bright, well-finished space.

Outside

To the rear, the garden offers a surprisingly private and peaceful setting, bordered by mature planting and stone walls. A paved terrace sits immediately outside the sitting room, ideal for outdoor dining, while the lawn beyond provides a tranquil space to relax and unwind.

An outbuilding adds further flexibility, offering potential for storage, a workshop or hobby space, subject to requirements.

Please note that parking is available on the street, a common and well-established arrangement for this sought-after part of Ashburton.

About... Ashburton

Ashburton is one of Dartmoor National Park's true gems – a thriving, character-filled town surrounded by breath-taking countryside yet perfectly placed for modern living. Its vibrant high street is lined with independent shops and artisan businesses, from vintage treasures and antique finds to a family-run ironmonger's, delicatessen, artisan bakery, and specialist fish deli. Food lovers will also know Ashburton as the home of the renowned Ashburton Cookery School, drawing aspiring chefs from across the country.

The town offers excellent everyday amenities, including a primary school and South Dartmoor Community College, while the open moor is less than 10 minutes away – inviting endless opportunities for walking, riding, fishing, and exploring. Golf enthusiasts will appreciate the nearby Stover Golf Club, set in beautiful parkland.

Despite its scenic location, Ashburton enjoys superb connectivity. The market town of Newton Abbot is just 7½ miles away, with a mainline train station linking directly to London, and easy access to the A38 and M5. The stunning South Devon coast can be reached in around 40 minutes, while Exeter and Exeter Airport are within 30 miles, and Plymouth just 40 minutes by road. Totnes also offers regular bus services and a mainline rail connection from London to Penzance.

Whether you're seeking outdoor adventure, artisan shopping, top-rated schooling, or a warm, welcoming community, Ashburton offers it all – right on your doorstep.
