The residence, which benefits from oil fired central and double glazing, enjoys far reaching views over the village, out to sea and the rugged Cornish coastline.

To the outside is a good sized garden to the rear which is mainly laid to lawn and boasts well established plants and shrubs and a patio area which would seem ideal for al fresco dining and entertaining. A real feature of the property is the balcony which can be accessed from the lounge and takes full advantage of the fine outlook. To the front of the property is a driveway which provides parking and leads to a double garage.

In brief, the accommodation is arranged into reverse level, to take full advantage of the impressive views and one enters the property on the middle floor which provides a hallway. On the first floor is an upper hall, lounge, dining room and kitchen, whilst on the ground floor is a lower hall, bathroom and four bedrooms, the master of which benefits from an en-suite shower room.

Porthleven is a vibrant, picturesque fishing village and mainland Britain's most southerly port. The village is renowned for its many highly regarded restaurants, long beach, surfing, rugged coastline and clifftop walks. Community groups are thriving within the village with sports' clubs and a prize-winning brass band which can be heard echoing around the harbour on many a summer's Sunday evening.
