Situated in a highly convenient central location, just moments from Clevedon town centre, this attractive three-bedroom period home combines character, charm and practicality. The property immediately impresses with its attractive stone façade while also retaining further original character features internally including high ceilings, fireplaces and traditional window shutters.

The accommodation begins with a central hallway that provides a welcoming entrance and includes a useful understairs storage cupboard. To the front, the cosy sitting room offers a comfortable living space centred around a multi-fuel fire. The separate dining room enjoys a dual aspect, its own fireplace and an additional storage cupboard, which offers potential to convert into a downstairs WC if desired. The kitchen is modern and efficiently arranged, with direct access to the rear garden. The first floor presents the three bedrooms and the stylish, fully tiled bathroom fitted with a contemporary white suite.

Outside, the sunny courtyard garden has been designed for low maintenance, laid to patio and enclosed by stone walling to create a private outdoor space.

On-street parking is available nearby, along with a communal drop-off and loading space directly in front of the house, shared with the neighbouring property. Independent shops, cafés and restaurants are all close at hand, while the Curzon Cinema, Coleridge Vale playing fields and Yeo Moor Primary School are within comfortable walking distance.

Charming three-bedroom period home in central Clevedon, featuring characterful interiors, modern kitchen and bathroom, cosy living spaces, and a sunny courtyard garden.
