Location

Kingsbury Episcopi is a charming and well-connected village set within the Somerset Levels, offering a strong sense of community and attractive rural surroundings. Local amenities include a primary school, village shop and café, church, village hall and a popular public house, with further facilities available in nearby Martock and Langport. The village is well placed for travel, with good road links to Yeovil, Somerton and Taunton, regular bus services, and mainline railway stations at Yeovil Junction and Castle Cary providing direct connections to London Waterloo and Paddington.

Insight

Set back from the road, this characterful barn conversion, completed in 1993, offers a unique layout with well-proportioned accommodation arranged over several levels. The ground floor comprises two bedrooms and a family bathroom, providing flexible space for family living, guests or home working.

Stairs lead to a spacious first-floor living room/diner featuring high ceilings, exposed beams and dual-aspect windows, creating a bright and attractive main living space. The kitchen is of a practical size and sits comfortably alongside the living area. From this level, two separate staircases lead to additional spaces: one rises to a mezzanine-style room overlooking the living area, currently used as a home office, while the other leads to the principal bedroom complete with en-suite.

Outside, the property benefits from a generous and peaceful garden backing onto open fields, along with parking for two vehicles, accessed via a right of way over the neighbouring drive. While the property would benefit from some general updating, it presents an excellent opportunity to enhance and personalise a home full of character.

- Off road parking for two cars
