Shared Ownership

Shared ownership is aimed at people who otherwise would be unable to afford to purchase a home suitable for their current housing needs.

The property lease will contain a requirement that the leaseholder meets a minimum age requirement, and may also contain a requirement for additional occupiers to also meet the same age requirement. The lease may also contain a requirement for the leaseholder to live an independent lifestyle.

To qualify for older persons shared ownership our requirements are that a buyer must demonstrate a need for affordable home ownership and be able to sustain ongoing housing costs, and if applicable, show a commitment that their existing home is being sold or will be sold.

Rent Charge £204.73
Supporting Costs £13.48
Maintenance Reserve £34.06
Service Charge £70.75

Affordable Ownership

Applicants with sufficient equity to be able to purchase a suitable home outright on the open market may not be assessed as eligible. It is expected that applicants will use the majority of their capital to fund the purchase of a property.

To meet these terms we expect that an applicant will use at least 60% of their savings and capital to fund the purchase of the property and must have a form of income, savings or capital to be able to sustain ongoing housing costs.

It is recognised that this calculation will not be appropriate in some cases, for instance where there are relatively low property values or on low equity percentages being sold. In these cases we will look at the amount of capital which an applicant will retain following the purchase.

We recognise that some applicants may need to retain a higher level of savings or investments to provide on-going income to cover living and care costs.

Our allowance for the retention of capital to fund living and care costs is £100,000 (sole applicant) / £125,000 (joint applicants). So a sole applicant with up to £100,000 capital remaining following the purchase will be approved*. Joint applicants with up to £125,000 capital remaining will be approved*.

*subject to applicant also satisfying any other eligibility criteria

Some leases allow us to apply flexibility around the retained capital allowance. We will assess applications on an individual basis and no assumptions should be made regarding eligibility until the application has been formally assessed by Places for People.
