

Cilonnen Fawr farm Cilonnen rd, Swansea, SA4 3UN
Offers Over £1,000,000

Cilonnen Fawr Farm (Ash Tree Corner) is a 19-acre smallholding and equestrian property with views across Carmarthen Bay, situated within the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty on the Gower Peninsula, South Wales. Famous for its beaches and commons where ponies, sheep and cattle roam freely, it offers a rural lifestyle whilst benefiting from excellent road and rail links. The village of Three Crosses, with its gastro pub, village store and post office, is just 1.5 miles away.

Dating back around 400 years, the house and attached barns have been sympathetically restored to create an eco-conscious home. Extensive insulation, vaulted ceilings, underfloor heating, porcelain flooring, an air source heat pump, solar panels and battery storage combine character with efficiency. An MVHR system provides fresh air circulation and heat recovery throughout. Bespoke woodwork, solid oak doors and stainless steel ironmongery complete the finish.

External/Equestrian

Externally, Cilonnen Fawr Farm is a luxurious, modernised equestrian facility designed for both functionality and style. The centerpiece is a block built, well ventilated stable block, housing six spacious stables, each stable is equipped with water and a hinged window overlooking the fields to ensure comfort and stimulation for the horses. The washdown station has both high & low level lighting to ensure your farrier or vet can work in safety, no matter the time of day or night. Large windows and strategic ventilation provide a bright, airy environment, enhancing both health and well-being for your horses and those that work with them.

To the rear of the American barn there is an area ready with hardcore suitable for a round pen or horse walker.

There is also a separate block of 4 wooden stables. The 19 acres is divided into 5 newly fenced paddocks which are flat to gently undulating and offer ample space for grazing and exercise, while a professional-grade arena (20Mx40M) installed with 2 membranes & drainage allows for training and riding in all conditions. An additional block and render building is versatile in design to serve as either extra stables or garages, depending on need. These buildings are crafted with the same attention to detail, ensuring they blend seamlessly with the overall aesthetic. There's a separate access for the farm with generous yard/parking area with various outbuildings including hay store. The farm also has rights to graze livestock on the common.

Automated gates lead into the inner courtyard and house. The garden is level and simply landscaped, with lush greenery & patio decking off both the living room and the kitchen entrance. A greenhouse and chicken coop complete the rural dream, an idyllic and visually stunning environment for both owners and their beloved horses.

At the bottom of the first field is a wilderness area with pond and beehives.
