Rainow Farmhouse Under Rainow Road, Congleton CW12 3PL

Occupying an enviable semi-rural position on Under Rainow Road, Timbersbrook, surrounded by open countryside and enjoying breathtaking, far-reaching views across the Cheshire Plain, this individual three-bedroom detached home represents a genuinely rare opportunity. With approximately one acre of adjoining land, established gardens and considerable future potential, the property offers all the appeal of country living whilst remaining remarkably convenient for Congleton and its surrounding towns.

The location is undoubtedly one of the property’s defining features. The beautiful surrounding countryside provides an ever-changing backdrop, with far-reaching views enjoyed from both the house and grounds, whilst Bosley Cloud is within close proximity, providing access to picturesque countryside walks and some wonderful elevated scenery. Despite this distinctly rural atmosphere, Congleton town centre and Congleton Railway Station are approximately five minutes away by car, making the property surprisingly accessible for everyday amenities and onward travel. There are also convenient road connections towards Macclesfield and Leek, making this an excellent proposition for those wanting a countryside lifestyle without feeling isolated.

The property itself offers an increasingly rare opportunity for purchasers looking for a home where the setting, land and potential are every bit as important as the house itself. Whilst the accommodation would benefit from further modernisation, a number of significant improvements have already been undertaken, including the property being re-roofed in 2025, together with new radiators and electrical works.

Internally, the accommodation is generously proportioned and retains some lovely features, including original woodblock parquet flooring within the entrance hall. There is a separate dining room and a particularly spacious dining kitchen with pantry and additional storage, whilst the substantial lounge opens directly into an orangery. With glazing extending across its elevations, the orangery makes the very most of the property’s exceptional position, providing a wonderful place to sit and take in the surrounding fields and expansive Cheshire countryside.

To the first floor are three well-proportioned bedrooms, including an impressive principal bedroom with a dual aspect. The elevated position really comes into its own at this level, with bedrooms enjoying superb outlooks over the adjoining fields and far-reaching views across the Cheshire Plain. A family bathroom and separate WC complete the first-floor accommodation.

For purchasers wishing to create something more individual, there is considerable scope to further enhance and potentially extend or substantially remodel the existing dwelling, subject to obtaining the necessary planning permissions and consents. Given the extent of the grounds, purchasers with more ambitious plans may also wish to investigate the potential for a replacement dwelling, entirely subject to the appropriate planning approval.

Externally, the property sits beautifully within its surroundings, with established gardens wrapping around the front, side and rear. Lawns, mature trees, planting and traditional stone boundaries complement the rural setting, with various areas from which to sit and appreciate those magnificent views.

Beyond the formal gardens is a separate paddock, providing useful grazing for small livestock and contributing to grounds extending to approximately 0.65 acres. An external store/utility provides additional practical space, whilst the configuration of the grounds may offer potential to create off-road parking and a separate vehicular access, subject to the relevant planning and highway consents.

For anyone dreaming of a home in the countryside but unwilling to compromise on accessibility, this is an exciting and increasingly difficult-to-find opportunity: land, panoramic Cheshire views and beautiful walks virtually on the doorstep, yet with Congleton just minutes away.

The property occupies a particularly attractive semi-rural setting, standing within established wraparound gardens together with approximately one acre of adjoining land, all enhanced by quite breath-taking, far-reaching views across the Cheshire Plain and surrounding countryside.

The gardens extend to the front, side and rear of the property and are predominantly laid to lawn, complemented by mature trees, established planting and traditional stone boundary walls. Paved pathways and seating areas provide places from which to appreciate the property's wonderful outlook, whilst the elevated position makes the most of the panoramic views beyond.

Adjoining the formal gardens is a separate paddock, providing useful grazing suitable for small livestock and adding considerably to the versatility and appeal of the property for those seeking a home with land.

There is also an external store/utility, providing useful additional storage and practical space.

The extent of the grounds may also provide potential to create a separate vehicular access and off-road parking area, subject to obtaining any necessary planning permission and consents, offering purchasers further scope to adapt the property to their individual requirements.

The combination of established gardens, adjoining land and uninterrupted countryside views creates a particularly special outside setting and one which is likely to prove a major feature of the property.
