Highfield House is approached via a private gated entrance leading onto a substantial gravel driveway, providing extensive parking.

Built in 2001 using reclaimed brick, the property blends traditional character with well balanced modern living. A welcoming entrance porch leads into a spacious hallway with staircase and ground floor cloakroom. The principal lounge is a superb reception space with a log burning stove and French doors opening onto the rear garden. A separate dining room provides flexible use as a formal dining space, additional sitting room or home office.

At the heart of the home is a generous dining kitchen with fitted units and integrated appliances, offering ample space for everyday living and entertaining. A secondary reception area flows from the kitchen, creating a sociable layout.

To the first floor are four bedrooms, including a spacious principal bedroom with countryside views, alongside two further doubles and well proportioned single. The recently updated bathroom features a freestanding claw foot bath and separate shower, with scope to reintroduce an en suite.

Externally, a large driveway provides ample parking and leads to a detached outbuilding ideal for a home office. The rear garden is private, mainly laid to lawn with a paved seating area and mature trees.

Rufforth has a wonderful community and benefits from a village hall, village store with tea rooms, sports club, playing field, children's playground and restaurant. A cycle path runs to York via the Community Woodland and there is a regular bus service. Rufforth Primary School is well regarded and falls within the catchment for Manor C of E Academy, with a school bus service available.
