Swallowcliffe, located on the A30 just west of Salisbury, was crowned Best Newcomer and Best Small Village by the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) at an awards presentation in September 2021. The CPRE Best Kept Village competition focuses not on finding the prettiest villages, but those that are most thoughtfully maintained and cared for by their residents, something Swallowcliffe clearly exemplifies.

Nestled in the rolling countryside of the Nadder Valley, Swallowcliffe is a picturesque and highly sought-after Wiltshire village, offering an idyllic blend of rural charm and strong community spirit. Surrounded by beautiful open countryside, it is perfect for those seeking a peaceful lifestyle, with stunning walks right on the doorstep. The village features a historic parish church, a well-regarded village hall, and a vibrant calendar of local events that bring residents together. Spring Orchard Surgery can be found in Fovant (approximately 3 miles).

Everyday amenities are within easy reach, with the nearby towns of Tisbury and Shaftesbury offering a range of shops, cafés, schools, and essential services. For commuters, Tisbury provides a mainline railway station with direct links to London Waterloo, while the nearby A303 ensures convenient road connections to the South West and beyond.

The village is also home to the renowned Royal Oak pub, jointly owned by James May and Chris Bryett. Since its renovation in 2015, the pub has developed a reputation for high quality food, excellent accommodation, and a relaxed, friendly atmosphere, further enhancing the village's appeal.
