Denise White Estate Agent Comments

A beautifully presented and characterful two-bedroom terraced home, ideally positioned on Ashbourne Road in Leek, offering an appealing blend of original features, generous accommodation and a warm, homely feel throughout.

From the moment you step inside, the property immediately makes an impression, with a welcoming entrance hall featuring stunning original Minton tiled flooring, providing a wonderful introduction to the character and quality found throughout the home. The entrance hall provides access to both the lounge and dining room, together with stairs rising to the first floor.

The lounge is a particularly inviting reception room, enjoying an attractive bay window overlooking the front aspect and an abundance of original character. Exposed wooden flooring, picture railing and a feature fireplace combine to create a cosy and timeless space, perfectly suited to relaxing and unwinding.

The dining room is another generously proportioned reception space, again benefiting from beautiful exposed wooden flooring and a charming brick fireplace. Offering excellent versatility, this room could comfortably accommodate a dining table and chairs whilst also providing plenty of scope for alternative uses, depending on the needs of the next owner.

To the rear, the kitchen provides a practical and welcoming space with part-tiled walls and a pleasant outlook. A particularly useful feature is the cleverly utilised under-stairs storage, which has been transformed into a fantastic pantry area, providing excellent additional storage and a charming little feature in its own right. The kitchen also provides access to a useful utility room and downstairs WC.

Upstairs, the first-floor landing continues to offer a sense of practicality, currently incorporating a small home office area which demonstrates the flexibility available within the property. The accommodation is completed by two well-proportioned bedrooms and a superb family bathroom. The bathroom is beautifully presented and generously sized, featuring part-tiled walls, a walk-in shower and separate bath.

Bedroom One is a particularly spacious double bedroom overlooking the front aspect, with the added benefit of fitted wardrobes providing excellent storage. Bedroom Two is also a comfortable double bedroom, positioned to the rear of the property and enjoying a pleasant outlook.

Externally, the property benefits from a delightful enclosed rear courtyard garden. Designed with low maintenance in mind, the space provides a private and inviting outdoor setting, ideal for enjoying a morning coffee, entertaining friends or hosting a summer barbecue.

Overall, this is an exceptionally well-kept and characterful home which combines period charm with practical modern living. With its attractive original features, generous room proportions, versatile accommodation and enclosed rear courtyard, the property offers a fantastic opportunity for those looking for a home with genuine character in a popular and convenient Leek location.

Location

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoilt town centre offers a refreshing alternative from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to speciality producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectables to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.
