"Avon View has been everything I could want in a first home; it's a real sanctuary from the city, while still being a stone's throw from Church Road. There's a very caring and generous local community, not unlike a little village. It's been incredible living by the river and the nature reserves, waking up to the sound of birdsong, and spotting deer, badgers and otters on walks and bike rides. The flat itself is spacious but cosy, modern but still characterful, and full of light from its huge south-facing windows – but it still keeps warm through the winters! The terrace is a beautiful spot for a morning coffee. Friends often say that it feels like being on holiday when they visit, and that really echoes my experience – it's a very special place to live."
