DESCRIPTION

Tucked away within a tree-lined No Through Road, this beautifully presented three-bedroom terraced home delivers a refined blend of character, practicality, and modern-day comfort. Elevated in position, the property enjoys a pleasant open outlook across the surrounding area.

The property's exterior sets a welcoming tone, with a private driveway and enclosed porch adding both practicality and charm. Inside, the ground floor is defined by quality finishes, including rich oak flooring and matching internal doors, lending warmth and cohesion throughout. A generous front reception room provides an inviting space to relax, while the rear of the home opens into a bright and sociable kitchen/dining area, thoughtfully designed for both everyday living and entertaining.

A contemporary family bathroom completes the ground floor. Upstairs, the home continues to impress with two well-proportioned double bedrooms and a comfortable single, offering adaptable accommodation for growing families or those needing additional workspace. One of the doubles benefits from substantial oak fitted wardrobes and presents clear potential for an ensuite conversion. The loft, already fully boarded and insulated and accessed via the second bedroom, provides excellent scope for further extension, subject to the usual permissions.

Beyond, the private rear garden offers a retreat, complete with a versatile studio at the far end—perfectly suited as a home office, gym, or creative workspace in today's flexible lifestyle. Families will also appreciate the selection of well-regarded local schools within easy reach, including primary and secondary options, adding further appeal to this already compelling home. A thoughtfully maintained and superbly located property, offering both immediate comfort and exciting potential for the future.

Excellent transport links are within easy reach, including Sutton Common station for Thameslink services and Sutton station, providing swift access into City Centre.
