Vincent Square, London

Situated on the raised ground floor of an elegant late Georgian townhouse on Vincent Square, this charming apartment offers a pleasing balance of period character and modern comfort. Extending to approximately 538 sq ft, the property enjoys excellent natural light and well balanced proportions throughout.

The reception room is particularly inviting, with high ceilings that lend a wonderful sense of volume and enhance the feeling of light and space. It provides an attractive setting for both everyday living and more formal entertaining. The bedroom is quietly positioned and offers a calm, restful retreat, while the bathroom is well appointed and thoughtfully arranged.

The building is believed to date from the early 19th century and retains the understated elegance associated with the Georgian and Regency period. Its handsome proportions and raised ground floor position give the apartment a sense of quiet distinction.

Vincent Square remains one of Westminster's most admired addresses, appreciated for its architectural character, garden square setting and central yet discreet position. The apartment is ideally placed for the excellent amenities of Pimlico, Westminster and Victoria, with a wide selection of shops, restaurants and transport connections all within easy reach.

This is a most appealing home for a purchaser seeking a well presented period apartment in a highly regarded central London location, equally suited as a London base, first home or investment.
