The central kitchen area features a wooden island with a black countertop. A white dishwasher is built into the island. Behind the island is a kitchen counter with a stainless steel range hood, a gas stove, and various kitchen appliances like a toaster and kettle. Above the counter are wooden upper cabinets. The floor is covered in large, light-colored square tiles.

The dining area is on the right side of the room. It features a wooden dining table with a red and white floral patterned tablecloth. Several wooden chairs are arranged around the table. On the wall behind the table, there are several framed pictures and a large black TV mounted high up. A small wooden side table with a penguin figurine is visible near the wall.

SITUATION

Surrounded by rolling rural scenery and situated midway between Dorchester and Blandford Forum, part of Dorset's "Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty", lies the hamlet of Ansty. The picturesque and peaceful hamlet is well blessed with local amenities, including an extensive farm shop/Post Office, a historic village hall used for a variety of community events from Pantomime to Yoga as well as the quintessential village pub - The Fox Inn offering contemporary facilities with a focus on locally sourced produce. An abundance of public footpaths and bridleways locally offer a fantastic network of routes to enjoy.

A diverse range of retail, leisure and commercial facilities are easily accessible in Dorchester, Blandford Forum and Poole, whilst excellent educational facilities, both state and private, are available throughout the area.

The spectacular World Heritage Jurassic Coast is a 30-minute drive away giving easy reach to Durdle Door and Lulworth Cove.

THE PROPERTY

An attractive substantial detached country house with extensive far-reaching views over the surrounding countryside. Constructed in a traditional style of brick and tile hung elevations with a new (2022) tiled roof the house extends to some 3,203 SqFt.

A large central entrance hall with galleried landing welcomes you into the property giving access to all principal ground floor rooms. To the western end of the property lies the superb and spacious, triple aspect kitchen/breakfast room with bi-fold doors opening onto the terrace – perfect for alfresco dining and BBQs. This room offers a wonderful space for family to gather with ample space for a farmhouse style table and chairs. A walk-in pantry accompanies the kitchen providing additional storage. To the opposite end of the property, through a walk-through snug/office area, is the bright and spacious, triple aspect sitting room featuring exposed beams, French doors to the terraces and a brick inglenook fireplace with inset wood burner and stone hearth. Adjoining both the sitting room and entrance hall, is the well-proportioned dining room with tiled floor and views to the south. The in-built wine storage is a charming feature to enjoy by all. To the rear of the property is a utility room with external access, ideal for day-to-day life, as well as a separate cloakroom.

Stair rise from the entrance hall to the first-floor landing, giving access to all bedrooms and the family shower room. The dual aspect, master bedroom offers exposed beams and wonderful views to the south and east. This spacious bedroom benefits from a luxurious ensuite with modern freestanding bath, walk-in shower unit, wash basin and WC. All five bedrooms benefit from built in storage.

OUTSIDE

The property is approached via a spacious gravelled driveway providing ample parking and access to the outbuildings.

The gardens and grounds are a notable feature, being predominantly laid to lawn with wildlife pond, mature trees, established borders and open views over the surrounding countryside. Extensive paved terraces with inset ornamental fishpond, adjoin the house, providing excellent areas for outdoor entertaining and al fresco dining.

The substantial detached barn and separate secure workshop/ store are positioned conveniently away from the principal gardens and offer an extensive space for a diverse range of uses, dependant on requirements.

The property is further complemented by approximately 2 acres of adjoining paddock land, providing excellent amenity space and lending itself particularly well to equestrian, smallholding or recreational use. The paddock enjoys a pleasant rural outlook and enhances the property's overall sense of space and privacy.

SERVICES

Mains electricity and water. Shared private drainage via the adjacent public house sewage plant with a formal easement in place whereby the property is responsible for 5% of associated running costs and maintenance. Heating via ground source heat pump. Gas via LPG bottles (Cooking). PV Panels with battery & EV Charging Point.

Broadband is currently provided by Wessex Internet with a Full Fibre (FFTP) Gbit connection. Local Authority: Dorset Council

ENERGY EFFICENCY

The current owners have invested heavily in making the house both environmentally responsible and cost efficient to run. The house has a ground source heat pump, 10kw generation in two solar arrays, 27kwh of domestic battery capacity (Tesla PW3) and an EV charging point.

The vendors' advise: "this combination allows for the property's heating, hot water and electricity supply, including the running of an electric vehicle, to be at a nett zero cost per annum. In addition, one of the solar arrays is within the FIT scheme benefitting from an annual revenue of approximately £3,000, with a remaining 10 years on the scheme".

DIRECTIONS

The property is accessed via the Fox Inn Car Park, where the gated driveway can be found at the rear-left hand side of the car park.
