If you like being close to the water, it would be difficult to find a more convenient spot. Poole Quay is quite literally on the doorstep of this well-presented first-floor one-bedroom apartment, which also comes with allocated parking behind electric gates.

The location is a big part of the appeal. Step outside and you're right by the Quay, with the waterfront, restaurants, cafés and harbour atmosphere all close enough to become part of everyday life. Having secure allocated parking behind electric gates is a useful bonus, particularly in such a central position.

Inside, the apartment has a comfortable living space with laminate flooring throughout, giving it a clean and
