Nestled in the heart of the Scottish Borders, Kelso is widely regarded as one of the most picturesque and desirable towns in the region. Set at the meeting point of the Rivers Tweed and Teviot, the town enjoys a truly stunning setting, with its elegant, Flemish-style cobbled Square forming a charming and vibrant focal point. Independent shops, welcoming cafés, traditional pubs and quality restaurants give Kelso a warm community feel, while its rich history and architectural beauty create an enviable lifestyle setting. The town is perhaps best known for Kelso Races, one of Britain's most scenic National Hunt racecourses, and is also home to Floors Castle, the magnificent Roxburghe family seat set within spectacular parkland. Outdoor enthusiasts are particularly well catered for, with superb fishing on the River Tweed, excellent golf at Kelso Golf Club, as well as rugby, tennis, cricket, curling, swimming and bowls all available locally. Kelso combines the charm of country living with excellent accessibility. The town lies approximately 43 miles south of Edinburgh, 25 miles west of Berwick-upon-Tweed and 70 miles north of Newcastle upon Tyne. The Borders Railway at Tweedbank, reachable in around 30 minutes, provides a direct rail link to Edinburgh, making Kelso an attractive choice for commuters and those seeking a balance between rural tranquillity and city convenience. Altogether, Kelso offers an exceptional quality of life, combining natural beauty, rich heritage, strong community spirit and outstanding leisure opportunities in one of the Borders' most sought-after locations.
