Description

2 Hembling Terrace is a three bedroom, mid terrace former railway workers house, with part brick and part rendered elevations under a mostly pitched roof. The property has traditionally laid out accommodation with entrance hall, sitting/dining room, kirchen and ground floor bathroom with three bedrooms on the first floor. The property benefits from Oil fired central heating to strategically placed radiators throughout and double glazing .

A covered entrance porch with a front door opening into the entrance hall, from which a door leads into the sitting/dining room, a spacious dual-aspect room featuring French-style doors that provide access to the garden. There is a red brick chimney breast with an open grated hearth, and an archway opening into the dining room, which has a window to the front. A door from the sitting room opens into the kitchen, which benefits from a side-facing window and a matching range of fitted wall and base units. A stainless steel single drainer sink unit with mixer tap is inset into the worktops, and there is a water softener installed. The kitchen also offers space and plumbing for a washing machine, space for an electric cooker, and additional space for further appliances. Slate-style flooring continues through to the rear hall, where there is a large and useful airing cupboard housing a floor-mounted oil-fired boiler with slatted shelving above. A partially glazed door provides access to the garden.

A door from the kitchen leads to the ground floor bathroom, which features an obscure-glazed rear window. The suite comprises a panelled bath set within a tiled surround with a mains-fed shower over and concertina screen, a close-coupled WC, and a pedestal wash hand basin with mixer taps and a glass shelf above. A chrome heated towel radiator completes the room. From the sitting room, a discreet staircase rises to the first-floor landing. The sitting room also benefits from an understairs cupboard. The landing provides access to the loft and doors leading to three bedrooms. Bedroom one is a generous double room with large rear-facing windows, a built-in cupboard over the stairs, and fitted shelving. Bedroom two is a further double bedroom with front-facing windows. Bedroom three is a good-sized single bedroom with a front-facing window and is currently used as a store room. The property further benefits from oil-fired central heating and UPVC double glazing throughout.

Outside

Beyond the rear boundary, there is access to an additional area of land which is landlocked. While this land is not contained within the freehold of no. 2 Hembling Terrace it is informally used by the neighbouring properties within the terrace for purposes such as children's play or general storage.
