A photograph of a two-story stone house in Brunton. The house is constructed from light-colored stone blocks. It features a central green door with a small window, flanked by white-framed windows. Above the door is a small plaque. To the right of the door is a larger white-framed window. The roof is made of dark tiles, and a chimney is visible on the left side. A green plastic storage bin sits on the steps leading to the door. The text 'BRUNTON RESIDENTIAL' is overlaid in large, bold, grey letters at the top of the image.

BRUNTON

RESIDENTIAL

Nestled in the charming village of Allendale, Hexham, this delightful terraced house offers a perfect blend of comfort and convenience. With two well-proportioned bedrooms, this property is ideal for small families, couples, or individuals seeking a peaceful retreat in the countryside.

Upon entering, you are welcomed into a cosy reception room that serves as a perfect space for relaxation or entertaining guests. The room is filled with natural light, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. The layout of the house is practical, ensuring that every inch of space is utilised effectively.

The property features a well-appointed bathroom, designed for both functionality and comfort. It provides a serene space to unwind after a long day. The kitchen, while not specified, is typically a central hub in such homes, likely offering ample storage and workspace for culinary enthusiasts.

Allendale is known for its picturesque scenery and friendly community, making it an excellent location for those who appreciate the beauty of rural living. The surrounding area offers various local amenities, including shops, cafes, and recreational activities, ensuring that residents have everything they need within easy reach.

This terraced house in Allendale presents a wonderful opportunity for anyone looking to embrace a tranquil lifestyle in a beautiful part of Northumberland. With its charming features and convenient location, it is a property not to be missed.
