

Luxurious property in Laity, near Helston

Guide Price £645,000

Council Tax: D

Tenure: Freehold

Nestled in a pretty countryside location, this exquisite four-bedroom cottage is truly special – a rare fusion of thoughtful restoration, ingenious reimagining, and picturesque position. Within recent years the property has undergone an extensive course of improvement, that preserved and accentuated its original character, whilst also incorporating brand new, fabulously stylish spaces, and modern luxuries. Meticulously renovated, and significantly extended, this prestige home now offers an incredible living experience, ideal for large families or those who love entertaining, with expansive living areas, a fabulous farmhouse-style kitchen diner with separate utility room, spacious bedrooms, and luxurious, spa-like bathroom facilities. Within the grounds, you will also find a self-contained, en-suite garden room - providing even more accommodation, perhaps perfect for multigenerational living. This fabulous property, could be where you finally get to enjoy the good life.

