There is also further potential to add a significant extension — Planning permission was granted in 2025 to add a side and rear extension, loft conversion, a pod room and extend the first-floor rear addition, converting this house into a 5 bedroom family home. Ref. 2025/01075/FUL.

Hugon Road is part of a small cluster of roads located in the south of Fulham close to the river. The real benefit of this quiet residential area is the proximity to one of Fulham’s largest parks, South Park, which is complete with tennis courts and a children’s play area. There are also several excellent schools close by (including Thomas’s Fulham, L’Ecole Marie d’Orliac) and a nursery in South Park itself. EPC rating - E

FULHAM AREA GUIDE

South Park

The streets around South Park are somewhat varied in character, with the small grid of seven roads between the park and Wandsworth Bridge Road being the most sought after. Two brilliant schools grace this area, Thomas’s on Hugon Road and the Lycee Francais on Clancarty Road, drawing in families from right across London.

The park itself opened in 1904, having previously been farming land. Used as a training ground in World War II, when air raid shelters were also installed, it’s now home to Fulham’s only public cricket ground and four tennis courts.

Quiet streets close to South park and not too far from Parsons Green. Better value than property closer to Parsons Green.
