51 Great King Street

*Exceptional
character...*

...combined with modern practicality

Impressive entrance

Behind the brass-detailed front door lies a generous entrance and reception hall, connected by original storm doors and enhanced by colourful mosaic flooring that immediately sets the tone for the house's enduring character. A carpeted staircase rises through the centre of the property, illuminated from above by an elegant oval cupola skylight.

An elegant drawing room

On the first floor, a generous L-shaped drawing room showcases Georgian symmetry and grandeur at its finest. Triple windows flood the room with natural light, illuminating intricate cornicing, a decorative ceiling rose, original wood flooring, and a striking black fireplace, all framed by warm period-inspired décor. The statement chandelier and the large looking-glass over the chimney piece are available by separate negotiation.

Adjoining living room

Double doors set within an ornate pedimented surround create an optional open flow into an adjoining living room, which continues with the drawing room's classical styling and extends the living space to the full length of the property. Also ideal as an additional bedroom if required, this versatile room enjoys a peaceful south-facing position to the rear, centred around a white marble fireplace with an arched cast-iron insert.

Refined formal entertaining

On the ground floor, conveniently adjacent to the kitchen, a formal dining room provides a truly showstopping setting for entertaining. Echoing the elegance of the drawing room above, it is a space rich in period character, with ornate detailing, original wood flooring, deep skirtings, a statement fireplace, and sophisticated ochre décor creating an atmosphere perfectly suited to both intimate dinners and larger-scale occasions. Fitted display shelves and two concealed Edinburgh Presses provide excellent storage.

A sunlit dining kitchen

The kitchen forms a relaxed social hub for daily family life, incorporating a seated dining area and enjoying a sunny rear position on the ground floor, where a large window with charming built-in seating draws in all-day sunlight. Sympathetically designed in keeping with the home's heritage, it features cream wood cabinetry, timber and black granite worktops, and a central island unit, all complemented by soft sky-blue décor.

Integrated appliances from leading brands, Miele, Siemens, and Bosch, provide excellent modern functionality, including a recently installed triple wall oven, an electric hob with a chimney-style hood, a dishwasher, a freezer, and a tall semi-integrated fridge. Two walk-in presses and a fitted dresser provide excellent ancillary storage, whilst a neighbouring utility room discreetly houses a freestanding Miele washing machine and tumble dryer. Naturally lit and highly practical, the utility room also incorporates fitted storage, open shelving, a deep Belfast sink, and a traditional ceiling-mounted clothes pulley.

sleeping
quarters

Private principal suite

Located on the second floor to the peaceful south-facing rear, the principal bedroom enjoys excellent privacy and seclusion. The generous wood-floored room is framed by a classic cornice and pale sage-green décor, with a central decorative fireplace, creating a calm and elegant retreat. It forms a luxurious suite with an adjoining skylit bathroom featuring a WC, a marble-topped vanity unit, a towel radiator, and a bath with an overhead rainfall shower. An adjacent fitted dressing room provides excellent concealed storage or a quiet study space.

Flexible additional bedrooms

Spread across the upper floors are three further bedrooms, offering ample space for family life, guests, and home working, if required. These include a sunny, rear-facing single bedroom on the first floor and two spacious doubles on the second floor, one with walk-in storage and another featuring double windows and an ornamental cast-iron fireplace. All three bedrooms are carpeted for comfort.

The home caters perfectly to busy family schedules and visiting guests. In addition to the principal bathroom, there is a wonderfully bright and well-appointed family bathroom on the second floor. Finished with pale-blue tongue-and-groove panelling and classic metro tiling, it features a traditional suite including a six-foot bath, a walk-in shower, and a heated towel rail.

Further practicalities include a ground-floor WC cloakroom and an en-suite WC accompanying the first-floor single bedroom.

The second-floor landing features a linen cupboard and Ramsay ladder access to a large attic, offering further useful storage. This is further enhanced by a substantial dry-lined cellar with light and power, accessed directly from the street.

Bathroom conveniences

Exclusive residents' gardens

Just moments from the front door is the Central Queen Street Garden – a tranquil green space that can be accessed for a nominal annual fee. Beautifully planted, these exclusive historic gardens provide an instant escape into nature in the very heart of the city.

Parking on Great King Street is conveniently regulated under Controlled Parking Zone 5A.

New Town

New Town

one of the most prestigious and sought-after addresses in the capital

Distinguished by its elegant Georgian architecture, tranquil cobbled streets, and beautifully maintained private gardens, Edinburgh's iconic New Town has long been one of the most prestigious and sought-after residential addresses in the capital. Great King Street is widely regarded as one of the finest streets within the New Town, admired for its handsome sandstone townhouses, broad proportions, and impressive architectural uniformity, all whilst sitting within easy walking distance of the city centre's outstanding amenities. The New Town Conservation Area and UNESCO World Heritage Site is a centre for art, history, and culture, home to some of the country's finest collections and institutions, including the Scottish National Portrait Gallery and the Scottish National Gallery on The Mound. Residents are also perfectly placed to enjoy the capital's world-renowned festivals and events, from the Edinburgh Festival Fringe and Edinburgh International Festival to the famous Hogmanay celebrations.

For shopping and dining, George Street, Multrees Walk, and the St James Quarter are all within easy reach, offering everything from luxury fashion houses and designer boutiques to stylish cocktail bars, independent cafés, and acclaimed restaurants. Stockbridge, with its village-like atmosphere, artisan food shops, weekly market, and popular bars and eateries, is also just a short stroll away.

The area is equally prized for its green open spaces. Residents of Great King Street can apply for access to beautiful residents' gardens, whilst the public green spaces of Inverleith Park, the Water of Leith, and the Royal Botanic Garden Edinburgh are all nearby. Princes Street Gardens and King George V Park are also within comfortable walking distance.

The property falls within the catchment area for reputable schooling, including Stockbridge Primary School, St Mary's RC Primary School, St Thomas of Aquin's RC High School, and Broughton High School, and is also ideally placed for some of Edinburgh's leading independent schools.

Owing to its central location, the New Town is exceptionally well connected, with Waverley Station, the tram network, and an extensive bus service all within easy reach, providing swift access across the city and to Edinburgh International Airport.
