The ground floor features a beautifully presented sitting room, enjoying a dual aspect over the gardens and centred around an inviting wood-burning stove, creating a warm and welcoming atmosphere throughout the year.

The modern kitchen-dining room forms the sociable heart of the home, enhanced by underfloor heating and a striking vaulted ceiling above the dining area.

French doors open directly to the rear garden, allowing natural light to flood the space and offering an effortless transition for indoor-outdoor living and entertaining.

Ascending to the first floor, a superb living room takes full advantage of the property's elevated position and coastal outlook. French doors open to a Juliet balcony, inviting in fresh sea air, while a second wood-burning stove adds charm and comfort - perfect for unwinding and enjoying the views.

The newly created master suite also benefits from underfloor heating, providing a luxurious private retreat with the benefit of a stylish en-suite shower room and direct access to the gardens via French doors.

Bedrooms two and three are both well-proportioned double rooms, each thoughtfully designed and served by a well-appointed family bathroom, ensuring comfort and practicality for family members or guests.

Outside, the property enjoys landscaped gardens to the side and rear, offering a delightful and private environment for relaxation or outdoor entertaining. A garage, carport, and generous driveway provide excellent parking and storage.

For those wishing to further enhance the accommodation, there is scope to extend the property on the southern elevation. Planning permission had previously been granted to incorporate the garage and carport into the main accommodation with an extension above (Planning Ref: 1/0537/2022), presenting an exciting opportunity for future development.
