THE PROPERTY

9 Gwendroc House Mews is an attractive end-of-terrace home, one of just three mews properties forming part of the highly regarded Gwendroc development in Barrack Lane. Occupying a discreet position within the grounds of the former period residence, Gwendroc House, the setting combines an established and peaceful environment with the considerable advantage of being within easy walking distance of Truro city centre and its amenities.

The property offers well-balanced and easily managed accommodation, ideally suited to those seeking a low-maintenance home in a convenient yet tucked-away location. It will appeal equally to downsizers, professional purchasers or those looking for a secure lock-up-and-leave, without compromising on private outside space or practical facilities.

The accommodation is thoughtfully arranged, with an entrance hallway leading to a comfortable lounge/dining room and a well-appointed kitchen on the ground floor. To the first floor are two generous double bedrooms and a family bathroom, the second bedroom offering flexibility as a guest room or study if required.

A particular feature of the property is the enclosed garden to the side and rear, enjoying a sunny aspect and pleasant open views across the outer fringes of the city towards surrounding countryside. To the front there is driveway parking together with a single garage, providing secure storage and additional practicality.

In all, this is a well-positioned and carefully maintained home offering the increasingly sought-after combination of low-maintenance living, private garden, garage and parking, all within comfortable reach of the city centre.

TRURO

Truro is Cornwall's capital city and remains one of the county's most desirable and well-connected locations. The city offers an excellent and diverse shopping centre, complemented by a thriving selection of independent boutiques, cafés, restaurants and bars. Schooling is particularly well regarded, with a choice of respected state and private establishments.

For commuters, Truro benefits from a main line railway link to London Paddington, making it highly accessible despite its setting within the county.

Culturally, the city is equally impressive. The striking Cathedral provides a magnificent architectural focal point, while the Hall for Cornwall hosts a varied year-round programme of theatre, music and live performances. The Royal Cornwall Museum further enriches the city's heritage offering.
