A truly special Grade II listed converted chapel, individually architect-designed and arranged over reverse level accommodation to maximise the exceptional space, light and far-reaching rural views.

The first floor delivers a stunning, open plan living space, quadruple aspect with windows to all sides, flooding the interior with natural light and creating a home perfectly suited to both entertaining and everyday living. The layout flows around a central stairwell atrium, with a contemporary kitchen linking to the dining area via a striking glazed bridge overlooking the space below. The dining and kitchen areas seamlessly connect to a triple aspect sitting area spanning the full width of the property, centred around a suspended log burner which adds warmth and character. Feature rear windows frame rolling countryside and provide the perfect vantage point for uninterrupted night skies.

The property is entered via timber double doors into a spacious hallway with access to all ground floor rooms. There are four generous bedrooms, including a master with stylish en suite shower room. Three bedrooms benefit from built-in storage, while the fourth offers versatility as a home office, hobby room or additional reception space, with French doors opening to the garden. A beautifully appointed family bathroom features a freestanding bath and separate shower, complemented by a practical utility room.

Outside, there is ample gravelled parking and a secluded, courtyard garden, ideal for alfresco dining. Conveniently located for Helston, Falmouth and Truro, this is a stylish, spacious and versatile home where viewing is essential to fully appreciate its unique design and setting.
