A wonderful example of Clevedon's rich history, Hightdale Farm West is the third oldest building in the seaside town of Clevedon, after Clevedon Court and St Andrews Church. Despite flourishing as a Victorian seaside resort town, Clevedon's existence can be dated back to the Domesday Book, and Hightdale's first mention can be found in 1317, though the building is certainly older. The site was the functional hub in the town's early days, with the first Bath stone farm building housing agricultural workers and tools to tend the fields stretching out below the hill immediately behind the house. The importance of the site is exemplified in the construction of a chantry in the 14th Century, a small chapel for regular religious services which also gives its namesake to the nearby St Nicholas Chantry School. Hightdale's continued relevance to the town's agricultural and ecclesiastical life is recorded well into the 19th Century, at one point even housing the MP for Bristol, John Knight in 1730. However, Hightdale's centrality to Clevedon's heritage has been best immortalised by the paintings of Doris Hatt, a distinguished local painter whose works of art including Hightdale are proudly reproduced in a permanent display of Clevedon Queens Square.

OUTSIDE

From Highdale Avenue a private drive gives access to a five bar pillared gate which opens to the extensive driveway of Highdale Farm West leading to a parking area and a detached double garage.

The Gardens

Where do we start, the gardens are simply stunning and immediately outside of the property is an area of lawn with beautifully established shrubs and perennials to borders, there is then access to the raised patio which is a great entertaining space during those lovely summer months. The driveway splits this area of lawn from a second extensive area of lawn where there are beautiful established trees and shrubs to borders.

Looking up past the garage Highdale Farm West also owns all of the garden area here, again with further established shrubs and trees. Gardens of this size within this part of Clevedon are extremely rare and will without a doubt attract the keenest of gardeners. They are also great gardens for children to investigate and even for the family dog.

Double Garage 22' 5" x 18' 6" (6.83m x 5.63m)

With two sets of double doors, power and light, window and a staircase rises and leads to:

Loft Space/Potential Home Office 22' 5" x 11' 5" (6.83m x 3.48m)

NB. There is some restricted head height due to the pitch of the roof. Window looking out onto the patio. This area could easily be converted into a sizable home office or gym etc.
