The current owner has thoughtfully renovated this semi-detached house, creating elegant living spaces with a clear emphasis on quality.

To one side, the dual-aspect sitting room provides a welcoming space to relax, complete with an exposed Cotswolds stone fireplace with wood-burning stove. To the other side lies the fitted kitchen, enjoying views through the front-facing window across the garden. Beyond is a utility room, which also houses a WC. Down the hall, is a rear door opening into a boot room with a further door leading out to the garden.

Outside

The gardens are a standout feature and a wonderful asset to the property. Enclosed by traditional Cotswold stone walls, they offer a high degree of privacy along with far-reaching views across the surrounding countryside. Access is via double wooden gates opening onto a gravelled drive. A garage with double gates faces the lane, while a pedestrian gate from the lower lane leads to a path up to the house. The gardens have clearly been much loved and carefully maintained, with delightful planting providing vibrant pops of colour throughout the flower beds, complemented by a selection of fruit trees. Arranged over two levels, the garden gently steps down towards the cottage, adding character. The oil tank is discreetly tucked away behind the garage.

Situation

The sought-after Cotswold village of Oakridge Lynch sits in an elevated setting between Cirencester and Stroud, and comprises five charming rural hamlets.
