Why settle for a ordinary home, when you can own this extraordinary home?

This stunning, duplex apartment is located on the top two floors of a converted church in the popular village of Harrington. With two double bedrooms, two reception rooms and fabulous sea views, this is a property for people who value character, high quality space, and individuality.

Located just minutes away from the harbour and shoreline, the railway station is literally over the road - perfect for access to Workington, Whitehaven, Carlisle and Sellafield.

Definitely quirky, this is a modern home inside a historic building, with exposed beams offering a glimpse into the past. Brand new double glazed windows were fitted in 2025, with additional upgrades to the kitchen and bathroom.

The large dining room doubles as a second reception room or office, and the adjoining kitchen has lots of storage and worktop space. A handy, understairs, larder/store provides even more storage space.

Upstairs, the lounge is a high quality space, and comes complete with stunning sea views, which are shared by the main bedroom.

The service charge pays for the maintenance of the communal areas, including the private, residents car park. Recent improvements include major roof repairs and new external doors. The service fee also covers the building insurance for the property.

In summary, a lovely, two bedroom apartment set over two floors, that has been lovingly maintained. A property that will bring a smile to your face, everytime you step through the door.
