Simply stunning, this exceptional detached former chapel has been sympathetically converted to create a truly unique three double bedroom home, combining striking architectural character with high-quality modern living. Beautifully presented throughout, the property offers spacious and flexible open-plan accommodation while carefully retaining many original features, including traditional arched windows that flood the interior with natural light.

The chapel occupies a peaceful setting within the thriving and historic Peak Park village of Eyam, renowned for its rich heritage, strong community spirit and excellent local amenities. The village offers a well-regarded primary school, a range of independent shops, cafés and public houses and lies within the catchment area for the highly regarded Lady Manners School. Surrounded by some of the finest countryside in the Peak District, Eyam also enjoys easy commuting links to major commercial centres, making it an ideal location for both village life and modern working needs.

The accommodation begins with an entrance lobby and ground floor WC, leading into an impressive open-plan living space that forms the heart of the home. A bespoke fitted kitchen with a range cooker flows into the dining area, where wood panelling adds warmth and character and a door opens directly onto the rear garden. This space continues into a generous living room, again enhanced by wood panelling and centred around a log-burning stove.

On the first floor, a mezzanine study area overlooks the main living space below, offering a light filled and inspiring place to work or relax. From here, access is provided to a double bedroom and a luxurious bathroom.

The second floor landing leads to two double bedrooms with eaves storage and a bathroom.

Outside, a driveway provides off-road parking for one vehicle, while to the rear of the property is a charming, enclosed garden featuring seating terraces, well-stocked planted beds and borders and an area of lawn.
