STEP INSIDE

Wyrloed Lodge

Some homes simply offer space, while others offer an entirely different way of life. Dating back to 1884, Wyrloed Lodge is a picture-perfect stone country residence set within just under two acres of beautiful south-west facing grounds in the sought-after village of Manmoel. Combining period charm with thoughtful modern improvements, the home retains character including fireplaces, high ceilings, period balustrades, exposed stonework and solid oak window sills. Offering six to seven bedrooms, three bathrooms and an exceptional range of reception spaces, the property is spacious for growing families, multigenerational living or those seeking a peaceful countryside retreat. The impressive wrap-around extension enjoys uninterrupted views across the gardens and valley beyond, creating a wonderful connection between the home and its idyllic surroundings. Outside, two paddocks, a mature orchard and established gardens provide privacy, space and endless opportunities to enjoy the outdoors. Despite its wonderfully rural setting, Wyrloed Lodge remains within easy reach of Blackwood, Cardiff and Newport, offering the perfect balance between countryside tranquillity and everyday convenience. Rarely does a property combine history, character, land and lifestyle so effortlessly, making this a truly exceptional home.

Step Inside

Stepping through the front door, you're immediately welcomed by the warmth and character that only a home of this age can provide. Two elegant reception rooms to the front of the property showcase impressive ceiling heights, period features and natural light, creating inviting spaces for both family life and entertaining. At the heart of the home, the kitchen blends original exposed stonework with modern practicality, complemented by a spacious butler's pantry and electric underfloor heating. The striking wrap-around extension, completed in 2013, frames beautiful views across the gardens through expansive glazing, providing a wonderful everyday living space in every season. Throughout the property you will find fireplaces, stripped wooden floorboards, solid oak window sills and traditional detailing sitting comfortably alongside upgraded insulation, replastered walls and energy-efficient solar systems. Six to seven generously proportioned bedrooms and three bathrooms provide flexible accommodation for larger families, guests or multigenerational living. Every room enjoys its own outlook across the surrounding countryside, ensuring the peaceful setting is never far from view.

SELLER INSIGHT

“ When we left London nearly eighteen years ago in search of a different pace of life, Wyrloed Lodge was exactly what we had been dreaming of. This quintessential stone cottage, set within two acres of beautiful Welsh countryside, offered the opportunity to embrace a true rural lifestyle while still remaining within easy reach of Cardiff, Bristol and the amenities of Blackwood.

The house immediately captured our hearts with its character and potential. Over the years, we have lovingly restored and transformed it from top to bottom, carefully preserving its period charm while creating a comfortable family home for modern living. Original fireplaces, coving and picture rails have all been restored, while a substantial wraparound extension has added generous living space. The kitchen, bathrooms and shower room have all been thoughtfully designed to complement the property's heritage.

One of our favourite places is the principal bedroom. Waking up to the spectacular views across the surrounding countryside never grows old, and every bedroom enjoys its own stunning outlook. The house is wonderful for entertaining too. We have hosted countless children's parties and family celebrations, with the summer room opening onto the south-facing garden and the kitchen flowing beautifully into the adjoining garden room, particularly magical at Christmas.

Outside, the lifestyle opportunities are endless. The formal gardens are filled with lawns, roses and mature planting, while beyond them lie three paddocks offering tremendous flexibility. The largest enjoys breathtaking views and is ideal for grazing, while the smallest has been established as an orchard with ancient apple trees, beehives and productive vegetable beds. There is also space for chickens, horses, sheep, pigs or a smallholding venture.

Surrounded by woodland walks, the old railway line and the breathtaking beauty of Manmoel Common, the area is a paradise for walkers, cyclists and dog owners. Despite feeling wonderfully secluded, everything you need is close by. Wyrloed Lodge offers a rare chance to enjoy a sustainable, outdoor lifestyle in an exceptional countryside setting.”*

STEP OUTSIDE

Wyrloed Lodge

The grounds extend to just under two acres, creating an exceptional outdoor setting that perfectly complements the home. Beautifully positioned to enjoy a south-west facing aspect, the gardens capture sunshine throughout the day while offering breathtaking views down the valley. Beyond the formal gardens lie two enclosed paddocks and a mature orchard, making the property equally suited to families, hobby farming or those simply seeking space and privacy. The surrounding woodland and nearby common provide direct access to countless walking opportunities, allowing nature to become part of everyday life. Mature planting, traditional stone boundaries and the picturesque setting create a timeless countryside atmosphere rarely found today. Whether entertaining outdoors, growing your own produce or simply enjoying peaceful evenings overlooking the landscape, the grounds offer something for every stage of life. Together, the home and its setting create an idyllic rural retreat where every season can be enjoyed from your own doorstep. The property also benefits from both solar electricity and solar hot water systems, together with a rare, high-value Feed-in Tariff.

Area Description

Nestled within the picturesque village of Manmoel, Wyrloed Lodge enjoys a peaceful countryside setting surrounded by rolling hills, woodland and open landscapes, while remaining just a short drive from Blackwood's excellent range of shops, cafés, restaurants and everyday amenities. The area is renowned for its scenic walking, cycling and mountain biking routes, making it an ideal location for those who enjoy an active outdoor lifestyle. Nearby country parks, golf courses and traditional village pubs further enhance the appeal, while the wider South Wales Valleys continue to attract buyers seeking larger homes in beautiful surroundings. Excellent road connections via the A472, A467 and onward to the M4 provide straightforward commuting to Cardiff, Newport and beyond. Families also benefit from access to both well-regarded state and private schools and local community facilities. Despite its accessibility, the location retains a genuine sense of peace and rural charm that is increasingly difficult to find. Wyrloed Lodge offers the rare opportunity to embrace countryside living without compromising on convenience, making it an exceptional place to call home.
