"Westerwood" (built cc 1880), is located centrally within a most delightful and generous private plot. This majestic home has been comprehensively upgraded and professionally extended, resulting in a fabulous family residence. The property provides an air of sophistication rarely found in luxury homes and embodies modern family living. The standard of specification throughout is credit to the sellers, exemplified by the addition of a new wing to the property which could be considered/re-configured to create a self contained "granny flat". This is a prestigious home, seldom available on the open market.

The internal layout comprises: entrance vestibule, grand reception hallway, spacious lounge with focal working wood/coal burning fireplace and surround, formal reception lounge with bay window formation and attractive working (wood/coal) fireplace and surround, the formal dining room also with decorative fireplace. The superb open plan living/dining/kitchen area is the real hub of the home, incorporating a selection of quality integrated appliances and contrasting worksurfaces. The large conservatory provides a large, bright, inviting space with French doors opening to the colourful rear gardens. This superb open plan space is fitted with a number of remote controlled, velux windows which allow the natural sun light to flood the substantial area. Completing the main body of the home downstairs is the tasteful shower room with thermostatic shower and vanity storage and the very useful utility room with door leading externally.

The elegant sweeping staircase leads to the half landing which serves the tranquil guest bedroom suite, with two Juliet balcony's and the stylish ensuite shower room. The upper landing affords itself to the magnificent master bedroom, with attractive ensuite shower facilities and ample fitted storage. There are two further double bedrooms, (one currently used as a family space) and the exquisite house bathroom with freestanding bath.

We are not finished yet. If we go back to the formal dining room on the ground floor the property has been cleverly developed to flow effortlessly to another wing. This area can be utilised to suit individual requirements, however at the moment the current owners have created a wonderful social space, incorporating a large cinema room with stylish bar on the upper level and a home office and w/c on the ground level. There is a door leading to the integral double garage from the office.

This home is further enhanced with numerous, original period features, gas central heating and double glazed windows (decorative stained glass windows)

Externally the property is accessed via the sweeping driveway, which provides distance and creates privacy from the road. The property is set within impressive, well tended, mature garden grounds, providing the idyllic setting to relax and/or entertain, enjoying the natural sunlight throughout the entire day. The rear garden is fully enclosed making it suitable for children and family pets.
