Location

Bradwell-On-Sea is a semi-rural village with plenty of history and beautiful scenic walks along the coast, popular for families, dog walkers and nature lovers. The village is known for St Peters Chapel, one of the earliest chapels still in use in England, its pre WW2 airfield and decommissioned nuclear power station. Bradwell Marina is situated on the Blackwater estuary and is ideally placed with easy access to Essex Rivers and cruising to the French, Dutch and Belgium coasts and benefits from a restaurant which is open to the public. The village also benefits from a primary school with just 25 admissions per year, and a shop with a post office.
