Extending across the front of the home and accessed directly from the primary living spaces and pool area, the south-facing grounds enjoy a prime aspect. Running the full length of the south elevation is an extensive patio, particularly generous adjacent to the open-plan living dining kitchen, creating an ideal setting for alfresco dining and outdoor entertaining. Beyond, gravel pathways wind through expansive lawns, thoughtfully planted beds, and a butterfly meadow, offering lovely views back towards the house. Complete with a greenhouse and vegetable plot to the side of the pool complex, a front gate leads into an additional half-acre orchard ripe for potential.

The gravel driveway leads directly up to the detached garage block and continues on to the main entrance at the rear of the house, offering extensive parking. The garage block comprised both a double and single garage, both with electric up-and-over doors along with light and power connections. Set into the rear wall, a further gate opens onto a historic right of way adjacent to the village church.
