Claridge House is a detached family home on one of Sunningdale's most sought-after private roads. The property is arranged over three floors with close to 5,000 sq ft of internal space. There is planning permission granted to link the garage to the main house, create an annexe above, and add a rear infill extension, increasing the overall size by more than 1,000 sq ft as well as adding a pool to the garden.

The house has five bedrooms and five bathrooms, four of which are en suite. The top floor includes a recently fitted cinema and games room.

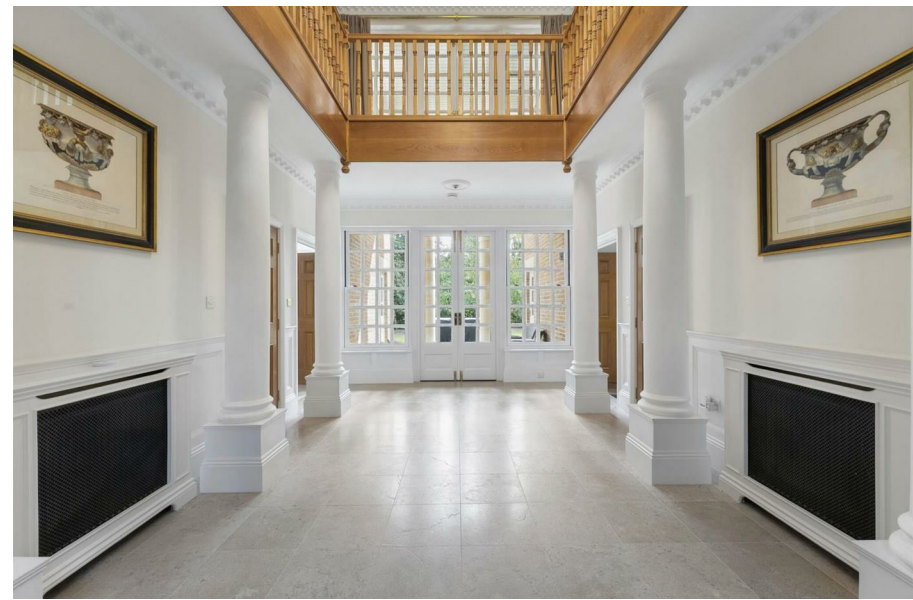

On the ground floor there is a spacious entrance hall with gallery landing, a large reception room leading to a study, a dining room, kitchen with pantry, and a utility room.

Claridge House is within easy reach of Sunningdale station, Waitrose, local shops and cafés. The area is well served by a range of primary and secondary schools, both state and private.
