SITUATED

Ideally position on a popular residential lane on the fringe of the village. The ever popular village of Devoran has easy travel links to Truro and Falmouth and enjoys a pretty creekside location benefiting from the usual range of day to day local amenities including a pub, primary school and doctors surgery whilst being just four miles from the Cathedral City of Truro. The property is perfectly situated to enjoy all that village life has to offer and is within a walking distance or a short drive of the historic quay at Point with its slipway, ideal for launching small craft, kayaks and paddle boards. The village hosts its own regatta in the summer months which is a social event not to be left off the calendar. Devoran is steeped in history being a former port for the export of copper and tin from the hinterland of Cornwall and is surrounded by stunning countryside and walks.

This wonderful waterside village provides a perfect mix of tranquillity and scenic living with some fine walks directly from the door or taking a stroll down to the creek, over the hill to Loe Beach. The National Trust property Trellisick with its enchanting woods and parkland is just a brief car drive away. This picturesque hamlet lies on Restronguet Creek, a delightful unspoilt tidal estuary leading into the fine day sailing waters of The Carrick Roads and is within easy reach of Truro and Falmouth.

DESCRIPTION

The property offers well balanced and versatile accommodation arranged to suit modern family living. On the ground floor, an inviting entrance hallway leads through to a spacious sitting room, enjoying plenty of natural light and providing a comfortable setting for relaxation.
