IF YOU LIVED HERE...

The property has a charming brick frontage with balanced proportions and neatly arranged windows, creating a welcoming first impression and a pleasing sense of character. Inside, the hallway offers a clear sense of flow, with built-in storage and a staircase rising neatly to the first floor, making movement through the home feel natural.

To the front, the reception room provides a comfortable setting with a fireplace forming a clear focal point. A large window allows daylight to filter in, giving the room an inviting atmosphere. There is scope, subject to the usual permissions, to open through into the dining area, creating a more fluid connection that draws you naturally toward the rear. The kitchen and dining room sit beyond, forming a cohesive arrangement with defined areas that suit everyday living. With access out to the garden, this part of the house also offers exciting potential to introduce expansive rear glazing, strengthening the link between indoors and out.

Beyond the house, the garden is a real standout feature, exceptionally long and offering a wonderful sense of depth. A broad lawn stretches away from the home, with quieter sections toward the far end that feel more secluded, creating an outdoor setting that invites reimagining over time. Completing this level, a shower and WC room is positioned off the hallway, adding useful convenience to the layout.

Upstairs, the bedrooms are comfortable and evenly proportioned, with the main bedroom feeling particularly generous. The remaining rooms adapt easily to a range of needs, while the bathroom, arranged around a bath with tiled finishes, completes the first floor with a fresh, easy feel.

Life here is shaped by a strong sense of community and an excellent mix of green space, culture and everyday convenience. Nearby Lloyd Park offers expansive grounds with cafés, a playground, tennis courts, a weekend market and the William Morris Gallery, making it a much-loved part of daily life. Local favourites such as The Dog & Duck provide relaxed spots to meet friends, while the Waltham Forest Feel Good Centre adds swimming and leisure facilities close by. Cultural evenings are also part of the local mix, with performances and events taking place at the Soho Theatre Walthamstow. Families benefit from several strong schools nearby, including the highly regarded Walthamstow Primary School, less than a five-minute walk away.

WHAT ELSE?

Transport links are convenient, with Walthamstow Central a short bus ride away or reachable by bike in a little over five minutes, with cycle storage available at the station. From here, the Victoria line offers swift journeys into central London, while Overground services connect you across north and east London.

A WORD FROM THE EXPERT...

"I love living in Walthamstow – it's got such a great mix of things going on. Saturdays are my favourite, with the market in Lloyd Park full of fresh food, handmade bits, and plenty of friendly faces. The new Soho Theatre has brought amazing shows right to our doorstep, and if I fancy a pint, the Blackhorse Beer Mile breweries are perfect for a wander. When I need some fresh air, the Walthamstow Wetlands are just a short stroll away – all that greenery makes you completely forget you're in London. Plus, with brilliant transport links, it's so easy to hop on the Tube or Overground and be in Central London in no time at all".
